4) Hosting options:

Considering the extreme facility of surveying in the hotel search sites (Hotels.com, Booking.com, etc.), including free cancellation options, we leave it up to you to choose and book the hotel at your convenience. Attached are some cost-effective suggestions located at a distance from EGN that will allow us to pick you up and drop you off. The daily values informed are a mere reference, so that some difference may be found during the consultation. The hotels located in Copacabana and Leme are the best options to reach EGN\(^1\).

8) Internet

Free Wi-Fi will be available for the auditorium and meeting rooms.
Plenary sessions will be broadcast in real time (live streaming).
9) Climate

We will be in late spring in Rio de Janeiro. Thus, maximum temperatures reach an average of 35º C, while minimum temperatures are around 24ºC. Averages temperatures are around 27ºC. We usually have few rainy days (monthly precipitation averages 96.52 mm), but when it rains it comes in showers, usually in the late afternoon and early evening. The wind is usually light, with predominance of the North / Northeast quadrant, with SE breeze in the afternoon. On the occasion of the rain showers, the wind turns to SW with gusts of 30 knots.

It will be a great pleasure to receive you.
Thank you
Hope to see you soon.

Capt. (Ret.) Frederico Antonio Saraiva Nogueira
